BEST PRACTICES OF INTERNAL COMPLAINTS COMMITTEE

Establishing an Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) is indeed a best practice in G.C. Naraingarh, to address issues related to sexual harassment and discrimination at the workplace. It provides a formal and legal mechanism for students and staff to report such incidents, ensuring confidentiality, fairness, and timely resolution. Additionally, it helps foster a safe and inclusive work environment. Our Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) justifies to be a best practice for several reasons:

1. Compliance: Many jurisdictions mandate the establishment of an ICC to comply with laws and regulations related to preventing and addressing workplace harassment and discrimination. Our college ICC works accordingly.
2. Prevention: By having a designated committee, the college has so far prevented incidents of harassment and discrimination through awareness campaigns, extension lectures, ppt presentations, workshops, training, and sensitization/orientation programs.
3. Confidentiality: The ICC ensures confidentiality while investigating the complaint.
4. Fairness: The ICC ensures conducting impartial investigations, ensuring fairness and due process for all parties involved. This helps build trust in the ICC's ability to address such issues effectively.
5. Resolution: The ICC ensures timely and appropriate resolution of complaints, minimizing the impact on persons and the workplace.
6. Culture of Respect: Establishing an ICC, indicates the institution's commitment to fostering a culture of respect, dignity, and inclusivity, which is essential for employee well-being and organizational success.

It's a best practice of our college, as ICC demonstrates our commitment to creating a safe and respectful workplace environment while also fulfilling legal and ethical obligations.

HERBAL GARDEN as Best a Practise

An herbal garden has been established in the college campus where students and faculty of Govt. college, Naraingarh can have hands-on experience to identify medicinal plants and do efforts to preserve them. The underlying principle include promoting environmental awareness and sensitivity towards benefits of local plant species sustainability and preserving indigenous herbal knowledge.

In the context of higher education, there is a need to address the lack of practical, experiential learning opportunities in the field of biodiversity conservation for students. To address this, we have established a herbal garden in the middle of our college campus.

Since the establishment, our student's engagement in herbal studies have increased. We have 30 species of herbal plants in our garden and 50 medicinal trees in college campus.

All plants are tagged with their scientific names and benefits.

Rain Water Harvesting System

- Our college's rainwater harvesting system is a brilliant example of sustainable water management.
- Rainwater harvesting helps replenish groundwater levels, benefiting the entire community.
- It's a cost-effective solution, as rainwater is a free natural resource.
- The system promotes environmental awareness and inspires students to adopt sustainable practices.
- Maintaining the system is relatively simple, requiring minimal upkeep.
- This forward-thinking approach demonstrates our college's commitment to environmental responsibility.
- Rainwater harvesting paves the way for a more sustainable future for our campus.
